News used to be exceedingly scarce. The town crier would stand in the public square noisily clanging his bell to attract attention. When the crowd of eager citizens had assembled he would read the latest proclamation or give a brief summary of the news.

Today in your easy chair you glance over the newspaper and in a few minutes completely inform yourself on the news of the day. Not only do you know what is transpiring in the world of events, but you are up on the news of the busy market places where the best of everything can be bought.

The advertisements are by no means the least important news in the paper. They are an accurate index of what other people are buying, selling, wearing, eating. doing, learning; of what the world is accomplishing and how, where and by whom it is being accomplished. They give you the opportunity for comparison and selection of almost everything you want or need. They bring the wares of the world to your door.

Form the habit of reading the advertisements as regularly as you read the front page.
